MOUNT STUDENT NOT GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

A Mt. St. Mary's College student, appealing a house of correction sentence for manslaughter in an auto accident in which two fellow students died, drew a directed verdict of not guilty on the manslaughter count this morning in court at Frederick.

Chief Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer directed the acquittal after the completion of the state's case.

The defendant, Richard Donald Gardiner, 20, Bordentown, N. J., was convicted of reckless driving and ordered to pay a $200 fine and the costs. The fine and costs were paid immediately.

Accident Near Emmitsburg

Gardiner had been found guilty in a magistrate's court on the manslaughter count and on reckless driving. He was sentenced to six months in the house of correction and fined $100 and costs by the magistrate. The conviction and sentence were appealed. The initial trial was held before Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan in Emmitsburg in connection with the accident in which Edward Galen 20, Philadelphia, and John Daley, 20, Englewood, N. J. were fatally hurt on April 1.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Maryland Route 97 and the Tract Rd. about a mile west of Emmitsburg. Galen died two days later and Daley a week later in the Warner Hospital here. Gardiner also was badly hurt in the crash.

Dr. C. G. Crist Adams County coroner, was a witness at the Frederick trial this morning as was State Trooper W. G. Morgan, who had investigated for the Maryland police. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, president of Mt. St. Mary's College, and the vice president, William F. Culhane, appeared as character witnesses for Gardiner.

C. M. YOUNG OF RADNOR SENDS GREETINGS HERE

Charles Morris Young, Radnor, one of the most noted of Gettysburg artists, has expressed his wish for "every success" for the Adams County Arts and Crafts Guild. Mrs. Gladys Robert, president of the guild, told its members at a meeting Monday evening at the YWCA.

But the 88-year-old native of Adams County, who is still painting and still world famous, notified Mrs. Robert that his age prevents him from visiting at the guild's invitation, according to a letter read to the group.

Born about a mile and a half from Gettysburg along the Taneytown Rd. Mr. Young has been noted as a painter for 60 years, and his paintings hang, among other places, in the Adams County library here. A sister, Mrs. J. A. Holtzworth, 131 N. Washington St., has a number of his paintings including one of his birthplace near here entitled "Dawn."

A graduate of the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, he completed his training in Paris. For many years he had a studio in Philadelphia but now continues his work at his Radnor home.

At Monday's meeting Mrs. Robert read "Only One Mother" and "For Grandpa's Sake." There was group singing and the president gave a review of the meetings held since last September. Mrs. Robert introduced David Bushman of Arendtsville as the speaker for the evening. He showed slides of California and Hawaii.

George Costello, New Oxford, a student at the Maryland Institute of Art, displayed some of the pottery which he has made in art classes.

New members admitted Monday included Mrs. Carrie Welkert and Mrs. Pearl Wiser. A social hour followed the meeting with these members serving as hostesses: Mrs. Anna Miller, Mrs. Mary Trout, Mrs. M. K. Eckert, Mrs. John Zinn and Mrs. Ruth Sneed.

Second Polio Clinic For Adults Thursday

The second polio clinic for adults will be held Thursday afternoon and evening at the Warner Hospital. It was announced today.

The clinic, for those who received first shots a month ago, will begin at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon and end at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

In addition to those who received first shots a month ago, adults who received second shots six months ago are eligible to receive third shots at the clinic.

The adults to whom the inoculations are given are those in the 20 to 40 year age group. The clinic is sponsored by the Adams County unit of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the Adams County Medical Society.

4-H COUNCIL'S FUND DRIVE BRINGS $394

The Adams County 4-H Council's fund drive to raise money for activities of the 500 members of the 4-H units in the county ended today with $394 received from 31 donors.

Barry Breighner, president of the county council, expressed his appreciation to the donors and to Fred H. Attinger, associate county farm agent who headed up the letter campaign used to secure donations. Most of the money was donated by organizations and groups, plus a scattering of individual donations.

The fund is used to purchase equipment, provide funds for attendance at leadership school and 4-H club week, awards at round-ups, photographic supplies and expenses involved in carrying on phases of the program.

Most For Banquet

The largest single outlay is for the 4-H achievement banquet to be held October 22 for which $150 has been assigned to pay the costs of awards, etc., incidental to the banquet. Second largest outlay is for 4-H week, for which $112 has been assigned to provide for attendance by 16 chosen as among the outstanding members of the 4-H in the county, at the week-long program at Pennsylvania State University starting August 12.

Other expenditures include $48 to send four outstanding youths to the 4-H Leadership school at Pennsylvania State University June 24 to 28 and such items as $20 for supplies for 4-H Fun Night and $20 for equipment at regional health meeting, and $25 for the annual day camp to be held July 25.

Other county-wide activities of the 4-H groups include participation in the Gettysburg Memorial Day and July 4th parades, the annual Rural Life Vesper service to be held June 9, attendance at the Adams-York 4-H camp, near Dillsburg, June 20 to 22; the annual trip made by the group July 30 and 31, the annual Home Economics roundup August 22 and attendance at the Adams County and South Mountain Fairs.

Geraniums To Be Added In Square

In a move to brighten Lincoln Square, Walter B. Lane invited local organizations and individuals to contribute toward a fund that will be used to place geraniums in the concrete boxes around the square that were placed there this spring by the Chamber of Commerce. Flowering crabapple trees and petunias already have been planted there.

Mr. Lane said 96 geraniums will be required to complete the proposed plantings and that when purchased in that quantity they can be had for 75 cents each. Groups or persons wishing to have a part in the project should send their donations this week to Mr. Lane at Lane's Studio on York St.

Mr. Lane said he will arrange to have the flowers planted without cost before Memorial Day.

POULTRYMEN ARRANGE TOUR

Tentative plans for the annual barbecue and poultry tour were outlined Monday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Poultry Federation at the Adams Electric Co-operative building, rear of N. Stratton St.

Howard Waybright, of the committee set up to plan for the annual chicken barbecue, reported on progress of that committee. It is planned to make final arrangements, including the setting of the date for event, in the near future, he said.

Carl C. Seifert, Frank Sterner and Melvin Sharrer Jr. were named as the committee to arrange for the poultry tour to be held in July or August.

Edward Lawless, of the egg and poultry bureau of the state agriculture department, outlined methods of obtaining better grade eggs. Use good chickens, clean the eggs, gather them regularly, have sufficient moisture, pre-condition the eggs into which they will be put and pack eggs with the small ends down, he told the group.

No date was set for the next meeting of the group, with the next session to be held in connection with the barbecue or poultry tour.

Warner Hospital May Get $24,000

The Warner Hospital would receive $24,000 in the next two years under a measure receiving tentative approval by the House Appropriations Committee at Harrisburg. The measure would distribute 24 million dollars to state-aided hospitals in Pennsylvania.

The figure compared with $22,213,400 appropriated to the private community hospitals in the past two years to care for charity patients at the rate of $9 a day.

The list of state-aided hospitals under the bill being considered includes the Chambersburg Hospital at $76,800 and the Hanover General Hospital at $40,000.

BIGLERVILLE, ARENDTSVILLE RITES SUNDAY

Plans for the annual memorial services sponsored by the Ira Lady Post of the American Legion at Arendtsville and Biglerville were announced today.

Rev. Paul L. Reaser, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church in Gettysburg, will be the speaker at the Arendtsville exercises. Rev. Francis L. Reinberger of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary faculty will speak at the Biglerville observance.

Legionnaires To Take Part

Members of the Ira Lady Post of the American Legion will participate in both services as will the Biglerville High School bands. Clarence Dearford, past commander of the Ira Lady post, will be the chaplain for the American Legion memorial services conducted at both Arendtsville and Biglerville. The Lady post will also furnish the firing squad at both ceremonies.

Charles L. Yost, principal of Biglerville High School will be master of ceremonies at the Biglerville cemetery program. Ann Bucher, a fifth grade student at Biglerville, will recite "In Flanders Field" and Richard Guise, a sixth grade student, will read "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address."

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Dr. Henry W. Stern and the benediction by the Rev. Laverne Rohrbach. School children from Biglerville, participating in the parade, will meet at the Biglerville High School, carrying flowers, at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, preparatory to the march to the cemetery for the exercises. In case of inclement weather, the exercises will be held in the Biglerville Grade School auditorium.

There are 3,339 persons in Gettysburg eligible to vote in today's primary. 2,162 Republicans and 1,177 Democrats. Gettysburg First ward, First precinct has 466 Republicans, 170 Democrats; Second precinct, 495 Republicans, 264 Democrats; Second ward, 586 Republicans, 328 Democrats and Third ward, 615 Republicans and 415 Democrats.

Once again the throttle and the bottle have been disclosed as the arch-villains in the nation's huge holiday traffic tolls.

The National Safety Council reported today that an analysis of the 435 traffic deaths occurring over the 1956 Labor Day weekend shows that speed was a factor in 71 per cent of the fatal accidents, and drinking in 48 per cent.

This is almost twice the year-round percentage in each category, the council said, and is only slightly lower than the figures for the previous Christmas holiday weekend, when the conviviality of the season could be expected to result in more drinking.

The traffic death total of 435 for the Labor Day holiday weekend was about one-fifth greater than the toll for non-holiday weekends in September, the council said.

Even so, compared with normal weekends at that time of the year it was one of the safest Labor Day weekends in recent years. In 1955 the Labor Day total was more than one-fourth higher than normal in 1952 it was about one-third higher, and in 1949 it was well over one-third higher.

The council pointed out that the 435 traffic death total for the Labor Day weekend included only "immediate" deaths—those which occurred during the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday, August 31, to midnight Monday, September 2.

The council's records indicate that the total number of people who eventually may die from those accidents will reach 580.

The pattern of Labor Day accidents, the council found, followed not only the pattern of Christmas accidents as revealed in the previous analysis, but of "normal" year-round accidents. Accident types and people involved were much the same.

As in the Christmas holiday toll, more than half of the fatal accidents and deaths occurred in the first 30 hours of the Labor Day holiday period and most of these occurred on the first full day of the period—

ONLY ONE IN TEN HAD VOTED HERE BY NOON TODAY

Less than a tenth of Gettysburg's voters had cast ballots up to 1 o'clock this afternoon in today's primary election. The polls will be open this evening until 9 o'clock.

Only 324 persons had cast ballots up to 1 o'clock. 241 of them Republicans and 83 Democrats. Republicans, with ballots for three county posts on their ballots, are expected to outnumber Democrats in today's primary balloting. There is only one contest for a county office nomination on the Democratic ticket.

Gettysburg First ward, First precinct had 51 Republican and 15 Democratic voters by 1 o'clock. That compares to 56 Republicans and 15 Democrats votes cast in the same district four years ago when the same offices were at stake.

3,339 Eligible

In the First ward, Second precinct, there were 55 Republicans who voted and 16 Democrats, compared to 83 Republican and 5 Democratic four years ago. The Second ward had 76 Republican and 28 Democratic votes up to 1 o'clock, compared to 133 Republican and 27 Democratic ballots cast to the same hour in 1953.

In the Third ward, 59 Republicans and 24 Democrats had cast ballots, comparing to 86 Republican and 17 Democrats to the same hour four years ago.

The voting up to 1 o'clock shows a decline for the last eight years. In the primaries in the election eight years ago, up to 1 o'clock in the afternoon 344 Republican votes and 101 Democratic votes had been cast in the four districts. Total votes cast compared for the three elections show 445 in 1949; 422 in 1953 and 324 today.

There are 3,339 persons in Gettysburg eligible to vote in today's primary. 2,162 Republicans and 1,177 Democrats. Gettysburg First ward, First precinct has 466 Republicans, 170 Democrats; Second precinct, 495 Republicans, 264 Democrats; Second ward, 586 Republicans, 328 Democrats and Third ward, 615 Republicans and 415 Democrats.

Six Students Listed As Spelling Champs

Three Juniors and three Seniors at Gettysburg High School have been listed as "spelling champions" of their classes by John G. Leach, director of education at the Goldey Beacom School of Business at Wilmington, Del., which each year conducts a spelling contest in Middle Atlantic states high schools.

The best spellers among the Seniors are Joan Lank, Adrienne Taylor and Gene Meade. The top Juniors are Keith McKenzie, Ronald Hess and Neva Jane Hartman.

Mr. Leach said, "The outstanding records made by these student champions reflect great credit on their teachers, their parents and themselves. We hope that recognition of their efforts will encourage them to continue their studies in spelling and vocabulary building."

The contest in the local high school was conducted by Miss Ruth A. McIlhenry of the English department.

The Auxiliary of the Sons of Union Veterans met Monday evening in the GAR Post Room, E. Middle St. President: Mrs. Margaret Byers presided with 19 members present. The "pig-in-the-poke" donated by Mrs. Sara Keefe was won by Mrs. Mabelle McKenrick. A white elephant sale will be held at the next meeting. Each auxiliary member is required to bring an item for sale. Games were played and refreshments served. Mrs. Dora Settle and Miss Ruth Miller were in charge of games. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Louise Johnson, Mrs. Edna Walter and Mrs. Hazel Dillman.

Defense Funds Cut Because "Threat To Free World Now Appears Somewhat Abated"

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today voted a $2,586,775,000 cut in new defense department funds. It said the military threat to the free world "appears, in certain respects, to have somewhat abated."

But it cautioned against "complacency" as it recommended $33,541,225,000 in new appropriations for the Army, Navy and Air Force for the fiscal year starting July 1.

President Eisenhower had requested $36,128,000,000 for the armed services, which received $34,698,323,000 for the present year.

Student Musicians Entertain Rotarians

Three Gettysburg High School students presented a musical program Monday evening at the meeting of Rotary at the YWCA.

Dr. Harold Dunkelberger, vice president of the club, presided. Miss Decilia Dolley sang "Estragita," "A Heart That's Free," and "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly." Donna Fissel sang "Why Do I Love You" and "Getting To Know You." Anne Jordan, who accompanied the singers, played as a solo, "Perpetuum Mobile" by Johann Strauss.

Approximately 60 attended the meeting.

CONSTABLES ARE SCARCE AT VOTING PLACES

If Adams county election boards need a constable today most will have a hard time finding one.

Straban Twp.'s election board brought the constable scarcity to light. The township officials called the court house where Attorney Charles W. Wolf is on duty, according to law from 7 o'clock this morning to 11 o'clock tonight, as the election board's attorney to answer all questions concerning the primary and, if need be, represent the election board if anyone takes any matters to court, specially sitting for the election.

The Straban officials reported that the constable who has been on duty over the years at the election house would not be there—he moved to Gettysburg some time ago. "What should they do?" asked the election board.

Few Constables

Attorney Wolf looked quickly through the law books, found that a constable is not required, and advised the board to go ahead with its election.

The Straban board was in good company. There are 42 election districts and very few have a constable.

A check at the office of clerk of courts showed only 13 constables have filed bonds within the last five years, which would indicate that there could be only a few who may be still operating on bonds previously approved.

Few Serving

The constables officially bonded within the last five years are John Griffin, Abbotstown; Clark Arendt, Arendtsville; H. S. Bentzel, Berwick; Fred H. Swisher, Cumberland; Fred E. Shetter, East Berlin; John E. Sentz, N. Stratton St., Gettysburg First ward, First Precinct; George P. McClellan, 38 N. Franklin St., Gettysburg Second ward; Charles E. Smith, 323 Baltimore St., Gettysburg Third ward; C. L. Sanders, Fairfield R. 2, Hamilton; H. E. Cluck, Gettysburg R. 3, Highland Twp.; A. C. Criswell, East Berlin R. 1, Latimore; Raymond L. Reaver, MoSherrystown Second ward, and John H. Bechtel, New Oxford R. 1, Hamilton.

Nominees for constable were being selected in most districts today, with election in November. But the clerk of courts held that prior experience indicates there will still be constable shortages after the election. Many elected, when they find the cost of a bond and the amount they are likely to make out of the job, quietly forget to obtain a bond—and thus "resign" from the post by default.

RIDING CLUB TO MEET

The Gettysburg Riding Club will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the engine house, E. Middle St., to plan preparations for the show ring grounds in connection with the summer season and the annual Horse Show to be held in June.

Funeral services were held at the Creager Funeral Home this morning at 10:30 a.m. with Rev. Charles A. Price officiating. Burial at Mt. Hope Cemetery, Woodboro.

Mrs. Mary E. Knott

Funeral services were held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, near Emmitsburg, for Mrs. Mary E. Knott, who was found dead at her residence in Frederick Friday evening. Interment in church cemetery.

Mrs. Knott was the daughter of the late Elmer and Irene Shorb Kreitz, of Emmitsburg, and at one time resided in Thurmont.

Surviving are two sons, Samuel Knott, Denton, Tex., and Franklin Knott, Thurmont; three sisters, Mrs. Franklin Beard, Baltimore; Mrs. Frank Little, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Bernard L. Lewis, now in Turkey, and John Kreitz, Thurmont.

Dr. L. C. Stutely

Dr. Luther C. Stutely, 87, prominent resident and practicing physician of Carroll County, died Sunday night at his home, "Echo Hills," near New Windsor, Md.

He was a son of the late Josiah Q. and Adelaide Eyer Stutely. He was a graduate of Gettysburg College with the class of 1892 and the University of Maryland School of Medicine and had practiced his

Unobligated Balance

A 190-million-dollar cut in Navy funds was attributed to heavy unobligated balances and to new pricing policies.

A reduction of $126,741,000 was based on the assumption that the Republic of Germany would contribute four per cent.

SEMINARY TO GRADUATE 30 HERE FRIDAY

Thirty members of the graduating class at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary will receive their Bachelor of Divinity degrees Friday evening in the Church of the Abiding Presence at the seminary at annual commencement services at 7:45 o'clock.

The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. G. Morris Smith, president of Susquehanna University at Selingsgrove.

Degrees will be conferred by Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president

USE IRRIGATION SYSTEMS MORE INDRYSPRING

Irrigation systems, which have become more prevalent in the county over the last three years (and which were practically unknown here before that time) are being utilized to a large extent this dry spring.

Small fruits particularly have been irrigated over the last several weeks of dry weather which has led farmers to compare the periods with the springs of 1953, 1954 and 1955, all drought years — with the hope that the comparison will end right here.

Strawberries, blueberries and raspberries have been irrigated on many farms. Tomato plants have come in for a share of irrigation and a number of farmers have used irrigation to cut frost injury during cold snaps.

Used By Nursery
Fred and Emory Raffensperger, Biglerville, were among those using their irrigation systems on strawberries and young tomato plants.

Robert Lott, of Quaker Valley, used his outfit during the late frost to help reduce frost damage and replenish the water supply on strawberries.

Slaybaugh Brothers, near Aspers, have used irrigation systems several times this spring on young plant trees in the nursery.

Boyer's Nursery and Orchards, several miles west of Gettysburg, have been irrigating both nursery beds and pasture.

Arthur Rice has used his irrigation system on strawberries near Brysonia for both frost prevention and to combat drought.

Farms On List Too
Soil Conservationist Richard Long, of the county unit of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, is among those who hold that the best time to irrigate is in the spring — he calls it storing water in the ground.

Such a method, he holds, permits the root system to develop deeply as the ground later dries, and find water at the greater depth.

A number of county farms are engaged in farm pond construction.

Harrison Fair, near York Springs, is completing a livestock watering pond. Robert Foth, along the Gettysburg road, has finished a large pond that will serve both as a livestock watering pond and for other purposes. Chester A. Shriver, south of here, is finishing a livestock water pond since his wells are not able to supply enough water during a dry summer.

SHORTAGE OF "BUCKERS" IS RODEO THREAT

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — Some of nature's little-known but marvelous creations helped keep people warm this winter.

The wonders are the great salt domes that bulge up like mushrooms to within a few hundred feet of the surface.

The solid domes, found over the years by oil drillers, were of only geological interest until recently.

Then someone hit on the idea of digging into the salt to create a cheaply built reservoir.

The best way to do this was to allow water to dig.

So shafts were sunk into the domes, water introduced to dissolve the salt, the water then pumped out.

This plan created great underground caverns with solid salt walls that will hold a variety of liquids.

Fifteen miles west of here, Freestone Underground Storage Corp. had six million gallons of liquefied petroleum tucked away in man-made cavities in the top of Butler salt dome when the winter fuel rush began. Liquefied petroleum is also known as bottled gas. It is used for home heating systems in areas unserved by gas utilities.

The Butler dome is one of the largest and most accessible in the East Texas area, pushing up to within 350 feet of the surface. Its flat top covers an estimated 1,200 acres.

Drills Wells
Freestone Underground Storage Corp. has drilled three wells into the Butler dome, the last completed last year.

The third well was washed with fresh water for two months and has a storage capacity of 200,000 gallons. After the winter rush for fuel, the cavity will be washed again and made larger.

Salt is not dissolved by liquefied petroleum and gas liquids do not seep into the salt beyond recovery range.

"The only losses we have had," Newman said, "are losses that go with any ordinary handling operation. We can get back almost every drop we put into the holes."

The underground storage facility was developed for less than one fifth the amount that a ground-level steel storage tank would have cost, Newman said.

Beauty for Miss & Mrs.

By Vivian Brown
The Associated Press

Young people have revived an art popular with their grandparents before World War I — decorating with cigar bands.

The method hasn't changed, but the items decorated are different. Grandma concentrated on ash trays and vases. Young people today decorate items to be found in their rooms — lampshades, waste-paper baskets, jars, photograph albums, picture frames and note books. Bells are decorated as well as key chains and luggage.

If you have access to cigar bands (rounding up those used by friends, neighbors and even trades people who will no doubt enjoy passing them on to you) you might try your luck at the project.

Lay Bands Flat

Before you begin decorating, open the cigar bands so they lie flat. Cut the back of the bands if necessary, at the side of the joining. Spread the bands out, face up, and you will be able to choose the color and shape for any part of your design without searching. Apply glue with a small brush or cotton swab to the back of the band and place the band on the article you are decorating. Press it down firmly with your finger for a minute or so, allowing to set and the excess glue to escape. Remove excess glue with a damp sponge.

After the bands have been put on the object, apply a coat of white shellac to articles that may get a lot of handling. It will be easier to dust them.

This same technique may be applied for floral effects, the decoupage method that has been revived in recent years — the pasting of colorful flower photographs or sketches inside glass items and then shellacking those items down.

Red Popular

A pretty effect may be achieved when glass is used by first lining the object with cigar bands or floral pictures, gluing down and then fitting colorful felt in behind the pictures. Red is most popular but new colorful felts in decorator colors lend themselves nicely to this scheme.

As with any fad, this one can only look chic if it is not run into the ground. Avoid willy-nilly motif, and be sure you have a plan before you decorate even one item.

Another idea to dress up a bare wall is to paste bands or other decorations on paper plates in an interesting motif around the rim, shellacking over-all. These do not look anything like paper plates if properly done. First paint the background of the plate — black, yellow, red, blue or what have you. Then paste on your design. An over-all design is best and proves very eye catching when up on the wall.

Plan Christian Radio Station

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Council of Churches has announced plans for constructing a powerful, 100,000-watt radio station in the Philippines as a Christian "voice of the Far East."

Dr. W. Burton Martin, head of the broadcasting section of the council's division of foreign missions, said the station will beam religious programs in various languages to the Philippines and Southeast Asia.

The council, representing most American Protestant and Orthodox denominations, previously approved plans for a similar 100,000-watt station in the Palestine area, to broadcast to that region and Africa.

LIFE CYCLE

MARINETTE, Wis. (AP) — Noah Piquette showed up at city hall to get his 1957 bicycle license the day after his younger brother, Charles, obtained one. Noah is 92 years old and Charles, 91.

Saturday, September 1.

For pedestrian accidents alone, seven out of 10 occurred in the first 30 hours of the holiday period. More than half of all the pedestrian accidents occurred on Saturday, September 1.

Other facts shown in the council report were:

1. More of the accidents occurred between 6 and 9 p.m. than in any other three-hour period.

2. Non-collision accidents were the most frequent type. This includes running off the road or overturning.

3. Eighty-two per cent of the fatal accidents occurred in rural areas — 10 per cent more than the year-round average.

4. Single driver accidents were most frequent. But two drivers figured in 103 of the fatal accidents.

5. Victims of the holiday accidents were mostly drivers.

6. Approximately four out of seven accidents occurred during darkness.

7. Eighty-five per cent of the fatal accidents over the holiday period claimed a single life. Twelve per cent took two lives. Each of the two most serious accidents, both multi-vehicle collisions, took five lives.

8. Ninety-two per cent of the drivers in the fatal accidents were men. But the council pointed out that while exact mileage of men and women drivers is not known, men undoubtedly drove more than women over the holiday.

9. Most pedestrian victims were either quite young or quite old. Thirty-two per cent were 14 or younger, and 24 per cent were 65 or older.

Bolivian Lauds Mission Schools

NEW YORK (AP) — The ambassador from Bolivia to the United States has praised American mission schools in his country for producing democratic leaders.

The Hon. Victor Andrade told a recent meeting of Protestant mission leaders gathered at the annual dinner of the Committee on Cooperation in Latin America. Against an often turbulent political background, the steady influence of the American mission schools in my country has served to awaken the social consciousness of the people."

He said the American Institute in La Paz, Bolivia, has been the main source of his country's democratic leaders. Their Christian training, he said, was largely responsible for many of the reforms undertaken in the "New Bolivia."

Release Ratio On Leaders' Faiths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ratio of Protestants to Roman Catholics in the Senate is 8-1, and in the House it's about 4-1.

The figures were released by the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress.

During the first session of the 85th Congress 416 members in both houses registered as Protestant, 95 as Roman Catholic. Twelve are of the Jewish faith, and one is a Hindu.

Four gave no religious affiliation. The Protestants in both houses consist of 105 Methodists, 68 Presbyterians, 67 Baptists and 60 Protestant Episcopal members.

PRAISE FOR SINGING

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Methodist churches are losing "the fine art of congregational singing," says Dr. James R. Houghton, professor of music at Boston University.

Speaking at a meeting here to plan for observance next year of the 250th anniversary of the birth of Charles Wesley Dr. Houghton said: "A church that sings is on fire spiritually. A church that doesn't sing is dead or dying."

"Lucky" Number For Twins Is 13

NEW YORK (AP) — Every day 10,000 men across the country sign their names with a punch.

They are the nation's railroad conductors, and each has an iron and steel punch which leaves a hole as distinctive as his hand written signature.

These designs range from a goat's head to a miniature Scotty dog, and the Cross of St. Andrew to a boxing glove.

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, said the practice of punching signatures was introduced more than a century ago by Pappy Ayers of the Erie Railroad who saved his railroad thousands of dollars annually by foiling free riders.

Conductors Sign Name With Punch

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Twins Roland and Donald Bezella are 13, and their parents have the figures, mostly 13, to prove it.

The boys were born at 9:13 a.m., Aug. 13, 1943. Their mother, whose birthday is July 13, was in room 413 at the hospital and had been married 13 years when the boys arrived.

Ronald and Donald each have 13 letters in their names and were baptized on the 13th Sunday of the year. The boys will graduate from the eighth grade on June 13.

Makes Attempt Following Flop

NEW YORK (AP) — Never say die is the slogan of Fred Finklehoffe, Mark Marvin and Reginald Denham.

Denham recently was director of a drama "Hide and Seek," produced by the other two. The press critics unanimously turned thumbs down and the play stopped seeking and went into hiding.

Finklehoffe and Marvin immediately announced production plans for next season — a play written by Denham and entitled "The Obsidian Winds," all about violent deeds in Mexico. Denham will be the director.

ON CUE

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — It really was "dirty pool," a billiard player explained to police.

The attempt at a game ended when the player broke the cue over the head of his antagonist.

Governor Signs Measure For Medial Barriers On Turnpike

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill signed into law by Gov. Leader requires the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to erect a medial barrier along 54.8 miles of the toll road between Donegal and Bedford.

The section is one of the most winding and hilly along the turnpike. The commission would be required to begin the barrier construction immediately.

The bill does not provide any money for the job. In the past the commission has estimated the cost of permanent, steel barrier at $25,000 a mile and it has been the cost that has held up previous barrier building projects.

The governor signed another bill to require that the interiors of seven turnpike tunnels be painted in light colors and that artificial lighting in the tunnels be improved.

Other Bills Signed
Other new laws signed by Leader will:

Impose a 10 per cent limit on school districts and 5 per cent limit on other municipalities on the amount by which real estate taxes can be increased under the uniform county real estate assessment laws.

Establish a $75,000 ceiling on the amount of money that may be contained in a special administrative fund in the Labor and Industry Department and transfer excess moneys to the unemployment compensation fund. The size of the fund has run about $1,700,000.

Ban the use of federal hospital aid funds (Hill-Burton) for state-owned institutions until after actual state appropriations and General State Authority allocations have run out.

Hung-Jury Cases
Allow discharge of a criminal case after a hung jury when the court finds that the evidence is insufficient to sustain the charge.

Increase from $1,000 to $2,000 the amount involved in a controversy that can be referred by court to a compulsory arbitration board.

Exempt school districts from paying a $5 state license for selling milk in bulk from automatic dispensing machines.

Allow second class school districts to sell or give away unused land or buildings to a municipality.

Require the county where a prisoner was originally committed to pay the costs of further confinement of a prisoner who commits another offense in a state penitentiary.

Repeal a 1907 law requiring railroads to report regularly to the secretary of internal affairs on the number of miles of railroads it has in the state.

Allow Allegheny County row offices to keep open Saturdays with only skeleton forces.

Increase from $750 to $1,000 the amount of a contract that can be drawn by a first or second class township or a borough without advertising for bids.

Establish that auxiliary police injured in the line of duty shall receive at least $22.50 a week in workmen's compensation when totally disabled in the line of duty, and $12.50 weekly for partial disability.

Prosecution Of Cases
Clarify imposition of the 1947 local tax law where a school district and a municipality desire to impose a similar levy.

Require that prosecutions under violation of the fish, game and terrapin laws be taken to the nearest justice of the peace.

Allow third class cities and first and second class townships to set up capital reserve funds for anticipated construction, purchase and replacement of municipal buildings, equipment, machinery, motor vehicles and other items.

Require second class township supervisors to obtain voter consent before building fire houses. Abolish the $10 fine that may be imposed in second class townships upon conviction for public nuisance and allow the township supervisors to fix a penalty by ordinance.

Democrat Quits Post In Protest

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—A Democratic member of the board of trustees of Hazleton State Hospital said today he had resigned in protest against an attempt to end his campaigning for former Gov. John Fine, who is seeking the Republican nomination for Luzerne County Common Pleas Court.

John Kaschak, who first was appointed to the board during Fine's administration, said his resignation and a protest against actions by Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro were contained in a letter to Gov. Leader.

"TWILIGHT ENCHANTMENT"

I heard a nightingale's refrain
... resounding sweet and clear
... a song of loving tenderness
... that all mankind reveres
... beneath my feet was velvet moss
... a carpet made by God
... to ease the weary travelers
... who tread the earthen sod
... I saw the setting sun sunk low
... behind horizons blue
... and as I turned around it seemed
... like stars were breaking through
... the world was still, save for the sound
... of blissful harmony
... emanating from a nest
... secluded in a tree
... leaves rustling on the fragrant breeze
... nature's symphonic art
... a cricket calls and then I heard
... the pounding of my heart
... all this was mine at twilight
... I never will forget
... because the spell of deep enchantment
... lingers with me yet.

LUTHERANS TO DIVIDE PARISH INTO 2 CHARGES

St. John's Lutheran Church, Abbotstown, and Trinity Lutheran Church, East Berlin, will be divided into two one-church charges on June 30.

The congregations voted, at meetings on March 3, to petition the West Pennsylvania Conference to approve the division. The conference has granted the request, to become effective when the present pastor, the Rev. L. J. Karschner, resigns as pastor of the charge.

At a congregational meeting held by St. John's Church, Abbotstown Sunday, a call was extended to Rev. Karschner to become the first full-time pastor of that congregation. The pastor has indicated that he will accept the call on July 1, resigning as pastor of both churches on June 30, after a pastorate of eight years.

During that time, both congregations have built and paid for new educational buildings. The pastor reports the baptism of 132 children and the reception of 346 adults into membership. He conducted 113 funerals and married 70 couples.

Largest In Conference
The charge, with over 900 confirmed members, has become the largest multiple-church charge in the West Pennsylvania Conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod. Only six multiple-church charges in the synod are equal to this charge in membership.

The last change in pastoral relationships involving these churches, was in 1893 when New Oxford and the newly-organized mission in McSherrystown separated from the charge. For a time, the pastor supplied the New Baltimore congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Karschner is a graduate of Susquehanna University and the local Lutheran Seminary. Before going to the Abbotstown pastorate, he served for nine years in the Newry Charge of the Allegheny Conference. He served as area chairman of the Conference Evangelism Mission, as president of the Adams County Ministerial Association, as a member of the Synodical Committee on Social Missions, and the Synodical Department of Evangelism. He was also conference chairman for the recent Susquehanna University Centennial Appeal.

IKE SAYS PEACE CAN CUT TAXES

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower formally submitted a trimmed-down $3,865,000,000 foreign aid program today and told Congress the only sound way to get a substantial tax cut is "to succeed in waging peace."

Eisenhower cautioned skeptical, economy-minded legislators that they face a grave responsibility to maintain foreign aid "at a level dictated by the dangers we face."

"The safety of our country, the preservation and strengthening of world peace, the minimizing of risk to American lives and resources in future years," he said, "all imperatively demand that we hold fast in our worldwide collective security effort."

Eisenhower was repeating familiar arguments in a special 5,000-word message to Congress.

Tonight he will back up his bid for keeping the foreign aid program rolling in a radio-television appeal direct to the nation.

Eisenhower pointed out he already has reduced his request for aid to friendly nations 535 million dollars below his January budget estimate.

The Future Of Colleges

The future of colleges, especially the small schools, will be at stake in a few years. It is generally recognized that financial assistance must be forthcoming soon to keep these institutions going. The Gettysburg Times, aware of the current campaign being conducted nationally by The Advertising Council to encourage bequests and grants to colleges, asked General Willard S. Paul, president of Gettysburg College, to present the case of Gettysburg College. Here it is:

Dear Friends and Neighbors:
"When he's ready for college, will college be ready for him?"
"Applications will double in 10 years. Help the college of your choice NOW!"

Perhaps you have seen these statements, or heard them. They are some of the expressions being used in a vast, nationwide program of appeal for financial aid to colleges and universities. Known as the Higher Education Campaign, the appeal is being conducted as a public service by the Advertising Council in cooperation with the Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc. It got underway in April, and will be carried on for at least two years. You will be hearing much about it, on your television or radio sets, or seeing it in various newspapers and magazines.

There are about 3,000,000 students on the campuses of our colleges and universities today. Looking ahead, the minimum estimate is that by 1970 this figure will double to 6,000,000 enrollment. Some circles are even saying that this total will triple, or even quadruple; in other words 9,000,000 or 12,000,000 students by 1970.

In various polls or surveys taken among the privately endowed, independent colleges throughout the country the most they think they can expand in the face of this wall or avalanche of students coming at them is 50%. Some already have said they are not going to expand.

What Does This Mean To You?

What does all this mean to YOU, as a responsible businessman, industrialist or citizen of this community? What does it mean the 125-year-old college in your "front yard"—Gettysburg College?

There are many things it means. Let's examine some of them.

1. Of perhaps most immediate concern to you is that your own son or daughter might not be able to get into a college—Gettysburg or otherwise. Our applications for admittance next fall are about 30% ahead of the previous year.

In the case of women students, for example, we have dormitory space on the campus for only 90 additional coeds next fall. For these spaces we have some 470 applications. Of these 470 girls about 350 are in the upper fifth of their high school class in academic standing, and many are in the upper tenth.

2. We will start building two new women's dormitories this summer, which we expect to be ready for occupancy for the 1958-59 school term. Our present construction will add two dormitories for men this fall and a new dining hall in February, 1958.

These new dorms will do no more than get us "caught up" with the enrollment we have right now.

3. Gettysburg expects an enrollment of about 1,450 for 1957-58. If we were to expand the above estimated 50% by 1970, it would give us a student body of 2,175.

We have a Joint Planning Committee studying what we should do—expand, remain at our presently authorized strength, or work out a compromise. At this time we don't truly know the answer to this question.

Expansion Raises Problems

Expansion raises all sorts of serious problems, the most urgent of which is the fact that we don't have the money in sight for any expansion.

4. Many of our present facilities were built for 500 students. We badly need such things as more classroom space, a new field house, a Student Union (recreation center), etc.

5. The new dormitories mentioned above, plus the new dining hall, are being financed by government loan. Any buildings that are income-producing can be constructed in this manner and then amortized over a period of close to 40 years.

6. In order to build badly-needed new facilities that are non-income-producing—classroom building and field house, for example—we have to depend upon gifts from our alumni and friends.

7. Now, we come to the heart of any college—its faculty and staff. The high standing of Gettysburg College has nothing at all to do with its buildings, even though these are important and necessary. The high quality of our faculty and staff makes Gettysburg College what it is. In other words, it is people that make an institution! And we want able Christian people.

Our faculty members are—like most of the profession—underpaid. They are dedicated people. But they can't support a family on dedication alone.

A recent survey of faculty and other salaries shows the following percentage of change in real income before taxes between 1940-1956: Physicians, up 96%; industrial workers, up 64%; lawyers, up 29%; faculty members, up only 12%.

You might say this does not mean anything to you, personally. Maybe it doesn't in an immediate "bread and butter" sense. But in a very real sense it vitally affects you. The continued high-quality education of your sons and daughters is at stake—not only in college, but in your public schools as well. The better trained and educated people are, the better off is our country and our own community.

We must keep, as well as attract, the highest possible calibre of teachers in order to do this job right!

8. Some people say "Why not charge more and make yourself self-supporting?"

This, of course, is being done across the nation, but we cannot price ourselves out of reach of the many worthy students who might not be able to go to college. Our nation needs every trained mind it can get. We feel we should do all we can to keep the cost within reach of those youth who are long on ability and short on funds. As it is, students pay but 60% of the cost of their education. More than that will make education prohibitive to too many able and worthy students. Such thinking is basic to our way of life in this country.

I have tried to outline in a general way some of the problems facing higher education—and what they mean, specifically, to Gettysburg College and to you as our friends and neighbors.

All of this boils down to the fact that we need your continued interest, your moral and monetary support. Communities all across the country these days are rallying to give financial aid to their "home town" colleges. This is as it should be. Furthermore, if you support us, "outsiders" are more apt to. We believe that you are just as proud and happy that we are here as we are to be here. We believe you want to have a share in making Gettysburg College stronger and better.

So, I would like to appeal to you to send us your gift, today—at the very outset of this nationwide Higher Education Campaign. Give the Council for Financial Aid to Education and the Advertising Council a rousing demonstration that this community, so steeped in freedom and history, is solidly behind higher education.

Beyond the immediate moment, I hope that all of you—whether businessman, industrialist, wage-earner, or housewife—will give serious consideration to the idea of a yearly gift to the Gettysburg College Annual Fund.

Sincerely yours,

WILLARD S. PAUL, President
Lt. General, U. S. A. (Ret.)

Nothing tastes quite as good as food one has cooked himself over an open fire. Some of the approximately 200 Boy Scouts who took part in the camporee held by the Black Walnut Boy Scout District at Pardee Field over the weekend are shown eating the food they prepared for one of the meals at the three-day encampment. The fire—for the information of non-Scouters, is in the hole in the ground just in front of the Scout in center with his head turned away from the camera. For individual cooking fires, the Scouts dig a small pit, build the fire in it, then put a grill over the pit, and cook by the heat of the embers glowing out of sight—and safely away from grass, etc., which might otherwise ignite. ## 90 PERSONS AT FAMILY NIGHT CHURCH DINNER

Ninety persons attended the Family Night banquet of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed congregation, New Oxford, Saturday evening. The affair, which was sponsored by the Women's Guild, was held in Emmanuel's Church, Abbotstown, and was served by the Ladies Aid Society. The theme was "School Days." The tables were decorated with small slates, dunces caps, candles and flowers in children's sprigging cans.

Mrs. John Menges served as toastmistress. The invocation was given by Rev. Louis Hammann, supply pastor. Group singing was led by Miss Kathryn D'Boyle.

Two selections "My Cathedral" and "For My Mother" were sung by the Misses Charlotte Orndorff and Lois Warnick, accompanied by Miss O'Boyle.

FLIES LINDY ROUTE AGAIN

MCGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP)—The "Spirit of St. Louis II" took off this morning in an Air Force bid to set a transatlantic record over the air route blazed by Charles A. Lindbergh exactly 30 years ago.

The jet-age version of Lindy's famous craft is an F100F Super Saber Jet capable of an official top speed of 822.135 m.p.h. in level flight. It is being piloted by Maj. Robinson Risner, a 32-year-old Korean War ace, of Tulsa, Okla.

Risner, who said he was "very enthused" over his trip, left this center of Military Air Transport Service operations at 637 a.m.

Risner arrived here in his plane Sunday from Palmdale, Calif., where his wife and three boys saw him off. He made the 2,405-mile trip in 3 hours and 38 minutes.

Outside of the route he travels and the name of his plane, Risner's flight will have little in common with Lindy's historic hop.

The career officer hopes to make the 3,680 nautical miles to Le Bourget outside of Paris in about 6½ hours. It took Lindbergh a few seconds less than a 3½ hours to make the trip in 1927.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany: Contractor Johns started to tear down the bank building (First National Bank) Tuesday.

Lighting rods are being placed on the Court House. Rather an uncommon improvement! The terrace on the north side of the building is being sodded.

Spalding Brothers have the foundation walls up for their garage building.

Dr. H. L. Diehl has purchased from J. L. Butt, Esq., the fast pacing horse "Pluto" who has a record of 2:06. The sum paid was $600.

At the sale of the late Abram Williams at Williams' Grove, the grandfather clock brought $108.
Hay sold in Baltimore last week at $25 a ton and the tendency is still upward. It is said the short supply is the cause of the high price.

J. I. Burgoon of Hanover, who has accepted a position in the Gettysburg Department Store, and
A. S. Beck, engineer at the brick works, have moved into John M.
Werner's houses on Baltimore street.

A. B. and O. Tourist party numbering 30, from Salem, Mass., spent Sunday here. They stopped at the Eagle and were taken over the field by Holtzworth Bros., with Capt. Long as guide.

James A. Cox has moved into
A. Danner Buehler's house, corner of East Confederate avenue and East Middle street, extended, vacated by Michael Engle, who moved to York.

H. C. Sanders will open his ice cream parlor, corner of Baltimore and E. Middle streets, Saturday morning next.

General Kuroki, the renowned Japanese general, is expected here next week. He will travel on a special train.

Lewis E. Kirssin has had his house on W. Middle street painted.
Jacob Eckenrode has had his house on Chambersburg street repainted and otherwise improved.

Auto Causes Breakdown: On Sunday afternoon as S. D. Reck and family, of this place, were driving out Baltimore street, their horse became frightened at an automobile and in backing broke one of the carriage wheels. Fortunately no one was injured.

Farewell Reception: The Christian Endeavor Societies of St.
James Church gave a farewell reception to their president, Rev.
Norman S. Wolf, in the lecture room of the church, Monday evening. A special program was rendered and refreshments were served. Rev. Wolf leaves on Saturday for Shrewsbury.

Noticeable Improvement: Contractor Wm. H. Johns is making his home on Steinwehr avenue extended one of the most beautiful in town. He has built a handsome stone wall in front and is now constructing a large porch on the north side of the house. A beautiful lawn on the north side also adds to the appearance of the place.

Teachers Happy: Adams county school teachers are jubilant over the prospect of an increase in salary under the act recently passed by both houses, and which is now in the hands of Governor Stuart, who, it is confidently expected, will approve the measure, which provides that the salaries of all teachers holding provisional certificates will be at least $40 and those holding permanent and professional certificates and diplomas will get at least $50 a month.

A Brave Act: On Monday evening two grey horses attached to a three-seated wagon owned by J.
Harry Brubaker, proprietor of the City Hotel, were left standing at the W. M. station. The horses suddenly started up Carlisle street and notwithstanding the fact that a number of people endeavored to stop them, they continued down Chambersburg street at a lively gait. Mr. Pownall, of College, an athlete of no little ability, was walking up the street, and seeing the team coming started to run in the same direction. When even with

SERVANT OF ALL

No one can read that noble piece of writing by Marcus Aurelius which he called his "Meditations" without being deeply stirred in mind, heart and spirit. At one time he was the undisputed lord of the Roman world. He had power, which he did not abuse. But what this noble ruler took pride in was that he felt within himself that he was in fact "the servant of all."

Busy with a multitude of interests
he took time out, over a period of years, to write his "Meditations." This book can well be placed among the great personal narrations in the world, and written with modesty and sincerity. It has long been a favorite of mine.
It contains the philosophy of a great and good emperor. He was born in 121 A.D. and died in 180 A.

The Meditations of Aurelius, and the story of this unusual character, is one of the most inspiring of all ancient history. He was kindly and generous. He was humane. He forgave his enemies. He offered to step down from his throne if it would be the best for his people.
His one great ambition was to be a servant to all. He said: "Have I done something for the general interest? Well, then, I have had my reward."

F. W. Farrar, noted clergyman and author, said of Aurelius: "I know not whether the whole of heavenly antiquity can furnish a nobler, or purer, or more lovable picture than that of this crowned philosopher and laureled hero, who was yet one of the humblest and one of the most enlightened of all ancient 'Seekers after God.'"

Certainly this is a life worth studying and emulating. It is an amazing study, and one that is most inspiring.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Better and Better"
Projected, 1957, by The George
Matthew Adams Service

TOURISTS

All strangers they
Who come to play,
Long labeled as the tourist trade.
The natives sneer
When they appear,
But when they leave their bills
are paid.

The tourist word
Means ways absurd.
Where'er he goes to fish or swim,
Their food depends
On what he spends.
But while they eat they'll laugh
at him.

They're pointed out
And joked about
And charged top prices when they roam;
But what, year through,
Would natives do
If all the tourists stayed at home?

MINER'S BODY IS RECOVERED AFTER 3 DAYS

LYKENS, Pa. (P) — Some 82 hours of digging, praying and hoping ended late last night when haggard rescue workers found the body of David Snyder, 34-year-old coal miner who was buried last Friday 400 feet below the surface in a central Pennsylvania coal mine.

The body of the father of three children was discovered by one of eight teams of five men each that had worked since the victim was trapped by a coal slide early Friday. Snyder was working the mine with his brother, LeRoy, and Mark Spontic 65. The three owned the diggings together.

Dr. Samuel E. Herrold of Lykens, a deputy coroner, and one of the five rescuers who came up on the body, said death was caused by suffocation.

Victim Suffocated

The body was discovered in a water-filled pit in the west gangway, a new tunnel off the main shaft. Herrold said Snyder apparently suffocated and then toppled into the drainage pit. The body was removed to a funeral home.

The victim had not been heard from since five hours after the slide.

At that time mine inspectors heard tapping and believed them to be from Snyder banging a hammer. A rumble in the mine a few hours later indicated a second slide had occurred. Rescue workers believe the second slide trapped Snyder in a section in which his air finally gave out.

Father Of Three

A crowd, including Snyder's five brothers, stood about the mine entrance on the rugged mountainside when the body was brought out. One of these was LeRoy, who had worked more than three days in the futile effort to save his brother.

At the Snyder home, the victim's wife and three children waited hopefully. Mrs. Snyder, who lost a brother, Al Sedesse, in a similar mine disaster less than 150 yards from the spot her husband was buried, was under the care of a physician. The children, Carol Ann, 9; Michael, 8, and Linda, 5, were cared for by neighbors.

The end of the search made Snyder South Mountain's eighth victim in 23 years of mining.

lowed with the Scripture reading by Susan Reaver, and prayer by the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns.
John Grot, secretary, was in charge

No Excuses Allowed: Fines Himself $21.50

LEXINGTON, Ky. (P) — Trial
Commissioner Nelson Hoskins yesterday fined himself $21.50 for breaking a 60-day dog quarantine begun after an outbreak of rabies.

He said he chained his pooch carefully on Saturday night but found the dog loose next morning.
As he paid his fine, he added:

"I haven't been accepting excuses from dog owners about chains breaking or children letting dogs loose or similar explanations."

Three Deer Cause Stir In W. Reading

WEST READING, Pa. (P) —
Three deer wandered into town and butted store windows, jumped through glass doors and sailed over back yard fences before townspeople killed one and chased the other two out of town.

The buck leader of the trio was shot by Patrolman Foster Griffith after it appeared the animal had been badly wounded. The other

FRENCH APPEAL ON CANAL GIVEN LITTLE CHANCE

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P) —
Faced with lukewarm support from the United States and flat opposition from Russia, France's appeal for new Suez Canal negotiations appeared today to have little chance of success.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau went to Washington for a talk with Secretary of State
Dulles before the U. N. Security Council's second meeting this afternoon on the French request. But there was no indication the United States would go all out behind the French.

Called "Ambiguous"

Pineau told the Council yesterday France wants negotiations reopened "as soon as possible" to arrange a permanent settlement with Egypt in accord with the six principles approved by the Council last fall.

Pineau described the present operation of the canal under an Egyptian declaration issued last month as "ambiguous" and "temporary."

The French got quick support from Britain's Sir Pierson Dixon, who said the Egyptian declaration needed clarification. He added that Egypt had by no means complied with the Security Council's requirements.

Egyptian delegate Omar Loutfi told the Council Egypt's declaration is in accord with the six principles. The canal, he added, is operating and is being used by major powers.

No Change In Position

Arkady Sobolev of Russia backed Loutfi. He declared the Suez problem was settled and said he saw no reason to continue its discussion. He charged France was making a fresh attempt to exert pressure on Egypt.

ARCH M'BRIDE BEATS GERMAN DECISIVELY

NEW YORK (AP)—The heavy-weight situation is getting more like a comic opera every day.

The champion, Floyd Patterson, is chasing the challenger, Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, and now Archie McBride has come out of nowhere to challenge the challenger and Willie Pastrano for good measure.

Archie, a 28-year-old refrigerator machinist when he's not fighting, leaped into the limelight by decisively defeating Germany's Willi Besmanoff at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

Last Night Three
McBride, of Trenton, N. J., hadn't won since May 11, 1955, when he outpointed Bob Satterfield. Since then he's had only three fights—with Patterson, Jimmy Slade and unbeaten Alex Miteff of Argentina—and lost them all.

Besmanoff had a winning streak of 13 straight. The pudgy, 24-year-old German was ranked ninth among the heavyweight contenders.

A 13-5 underdog, McBride earned a 8-1-1 verdict from referee Mark Conn. Judge Mike Davidovich had it 8-2 while Judge Nick Gamboli made it closer, 5-4-1. The AP card had McBride ahead, 7-2-1.

Record Mediocre
Archie's record is only a mediocre 21-12 but he's lost to the best, including two decisions to Jackson, the No. 1 contender.

While Archie was pulling his upset, Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato was busy in the back of the arena conferring with New York promoter Emil Lence.

D'Amato has appointed Lence to promote Patterson's first title defense.

Lence couldn't get to first base with Lippe Breidbart, Jackson's manager, yesterday. He said he had offered Jackson 20 per cent but Lippe wouldn't bite.

"He demanded $150,000 guarantee plus $25,000 expenses against a 20 per cent guarantee," fumed Emil. "Whoever heard of a challenger demanding a guarantee for a chance at the title? Twenty per cent is plenty for a challenger."

JUDGE PONDER PENALTIES IN IBC MONOPOLY

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Boxing Club and the U. S. government retired to realign their forces today in preparation for another head-on clash.

The IBC already has been found guilty of a monopoly in the promotion of championship fights.

Now federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan is hearing arguments from both sides before deciding what penalties to inflict on the IBC.

The government held in yesterday's opening session that the only solution was "dissolution and divestiture," meaning that the IBC must be broken up entirely.

The IBC, apparently has not decided just what to do. It is threatening—but not promising—to get out of the boxing business entirely rather than submit to a proposed trusteeship of its capital stock, a proposal of Judge Ryan.

The government proposed that the IBC officers holding stock in Madison Square Garden be forced to dispose of their holdings within six months.

Commented Judge Ryan: "Frankly, I don't look with favor upon any decree compelling (them) to throw their stock on the open market because not only they might be penalized, but it is also possible that others, not involved in this case, would suffer substantial losses."

IBC Attorney Kenneth C. Royall, former secretary of the army, said that if the government suggestion is adopted, the Garden would be eliminated as a site of championship fights. He said IBC bigwigs Jim Norris and Arthur Wirtz would get out of boxing rather than risk their $2,000,000 investment in the Garden corporation.

During the pre-season drills, Miller has been quite pleased with the way his players conditioned themselves so quickly. On the other hand, Bob has been somewhat plagued with injuries and sickness.

Paul Plank, star catcher, suffered a sprain on the right hand, which required three stitches, and may miss the opening game. This could be the biggest blow to the Moose.

Tom Whittinghill, who will be called upon to support the pitching staff, as missed the first two weeks of practice due to a cold, but may be ready in time to go as the starting pitcher.

Miller will use as his probable starting lineup: Gary Fair on first base, Ron Miller to take care of the second sack, Lynn Keefe to hold down the hit third base corner and Rich Fissel to tighten the infield at short stop.

In the outfield Cletus Redding and Bob Grenier will handle left and center field respectively. Right field will be a toss up between Tom Sneeringer, Richard Bruce and Ron Fox.

If Plank is unable to catch, Ted Gilbert, another capable receiver, will be behind the plate.

Richie Fair and Bob Hartman will be front line replacements for the outfield while Ron Plank will handle either the outfield or infield.

With such slugging veterans as Plank, Whittinghill, Keefe and Gary Fair, last year's runner up for the top hitting honors, the Cubs will add the power of rookies Fissel, Redding and Sneeringer. Bob Grenier, one of the top fielders in the league, will be called upon to do a little more pitching this year in order to patch up a riddled pitching staff.

Both Bob Miller and his assistant Earl Little agree that once these fellows get underway, they'll be hot defenders of their title.

That was the word yesterday from Dr. Charles I. Thomas, Cleveland eye specialist who expressed satisfaction with the progress made by the ace lefthander.

Score, 23, was hit in the right eye by a drive off the bat of Gil McDougald, New York Yankee shortstop, in a night game here May 7.

Dr. Thomas said he could not say when Score would be able to leave Lakeside Hospital.

"That still depends on the response to treatment," he said.

The doctor said there had been big improvement in the sight of the injured eye during the past week and it is anticipated the repair process will go on for some time yet.

X-rays of the eye have been taken and will be analyzed tomorrow and Score also will undergo several other tests in the next few days, Dr. Thomas said.

PICK DISTRICT 2 TEAMS MONDAY

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — A playoff series to determine District Two's representative in the College World Series at Omaha, Neb., will be held late next week at a site yet to be named.

The district selection committee headed by Bill McCarthy, of New York University, will meet at 6 p. m. Monday at the New York Athletic Club in New York City.

Among the candidates for berths in the playoff series are Penn State, Temple, Manhattan, Lafayette, Fordham, and Duquesne.

For several years past, the series was held at the Allentown Eastern League baseball park but the committee is expected to choose a new site for the 1957 run-off.

Winners of the first two games will meet for the title, and the champion will represent the district at Omaha, June 8 to 13.

TO CUT SLUM CLEARANCE BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republican lawmakers have decided to appropriate a total $2,800,000 for the separate industrial development and slum clearance-urban redevelopment programs during 1957-59.

Gov. Leader asked for a renewed five million dollar grant for each.

A breakdown on the bureau and program level released today by the Joint Appropriations Committee showed that GOP leaders intend to replace in each fund the estimated actual expenditures during the 1955-57 fiscal period. This would keep the total money available for both programs at the five million dollar level.

Commerce Department officials and others interested in the two programs have protested this plan on the basis that although actual disbursements from each might be around the 1½ million dollar figure for 1955-57 the total amount of money actually committed, earmarked and unavailable for further use is much more.

Ask New Appropriation
The latest GOP breakdown estimates the actual expenditures for industrial development at $1,546,129 and suggests a new appropriation of 1½ million to bring the total available to the industrial development authority back to the five million mark.

For urban redevelopment, also operated under the Commerce Department but for outright grants for planning and slum clearance, the actual expenditure figure was placed at $1,297,844. The recommended appropriation is $1,300,000.

Gov. Leader has termed a cut-down in either proposed five million dollar renewal appropriations as crippling to the programs.

Andy Heberton will be $1,000 richer before the next hockey season. That's the amount the National Hockey League pays to the player named the winner of the Lady Byng Memorial Trophy.

RESEARCH FOR COAL INDUSTRY COST $447,000

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state has awarded contracts totaling $447,000 for research by private agencies to improve Pennsylvania's coal industry.

The program's major aims are to develop further the hard and soft coal markets and to find new ones. The contracts were negotiated by the State Coal Research Board and approved by Gov. Leader.

The largest contract has been let to the College of Mineral Industries at Pennsylvania State University. The college will do research on 14 separate projects for $348,700.

The other contracts are to the Anthracite Institute, Wilkes-Barre, $17,500; Bituminous Coal Research Inc., Pittsburgh, $60,800; and to Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, $20,000. Bituminous coal research is matching the contract fee for its phase of the work.

2-Year Contracts
The contracts are for a two-year period. Their purposes range from developing cheaper ways to crush anthracite into small sizes, to achieving an easy method of removing sulphur from coking coal.

The Anthracite Institute, which comprises major coal operators in the hard coal region, will examine European markets. Paul Mulvey, a Wilkes-Barre engineer, has gone to Europe to further the institute's work, the State Department of Mines reported.

The department said the agencies are required to make reports every four months.

The $447,000 comes from an appropriation of a half million dollars by the Legislature for the work. The Coal Research Board was created by the Legislature in the 1955 session. The board has since devoted extensive study to programs to help the state's coal industry.

A spokesman for the Mines Department said the balance of the appropriation was being held in reserve in case additional funds were needed within the two years.

HANK BAUER TO SEE DA TODAY ABOUT BRAWL

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Bauer, New York Yankee outfielder was summoned to the district attorney's office today as an outgrowth of a brawl at a local night club last week.

Edward Jones, a delicatessen store operator, said he was beaten by Bauer in the night club. Bauer denied the charge.

Assistant District Attorney Karl Grebow said that if Jones wishes to press a complaint against Bauer, it will be done on the basis of a civilian arrest.

Police said a detective would be on hand if Jones wishes to make the civilian arrest.

Jones has not indicated what action he will take, although some time after the incident he said he still was fond of Bauer and didn't plan "to make a case of it."

However, he was cautioned by his attorney, Anthony Zingales: "Don't let your love run away with you."

Joint Committee Is Ready To Slash Governor Leader's State Budget $94 Millions

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (P)—Battle lines were drawn today on the newly unveiled Republican plan to cut Gov. Leader's budget for the next two years by 94½ million dollars.

The governor said the Republican-sponsored general appropriations bill hit hardest at what he termed the areas "of great human need"—mental health, industrial development, slum clearance and public health.

But Chairman Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) of the House Appropriations Committee defended the measure as the only alternative to 100 million dollars in new taxes.

The 94½-million-dollar figure was made public with agreement by the Joint House and Senate Appropriations Committee on the $1,107,307,466 general appropriation bill—largest in the commonwealth's history.

Slash Is Increased
The cut represents more than a 10-million-dollar boost in appropriation slashes since Republicans tentatively agreed last week to a $84,400,000 reduction.

Some 311 millions in separate appropriation measures are planned by the GOP for an over-all spending figure of $1,418,244,773. This, added to the need for meeting an $2 million dollar deficit as of the end of the month, totals 1½ billion dollars.

The 1½-billion-dollar figure is the ceiling Republicans have placed on general fund revenue. If accepted by the House and Senate GOP caucuses after the lawmakers return to Harrisburg tomorrow, the budget will have been balanced from the Republicans' point of view.

Biggest Cut In Welfare
Leader offered a $1,559,000,000 budget, plus spending authority for an additional 45½ millions in non-budgeted items, to make an over-all total of $1,604,000,000.

The biggest cut dollarwise involves the Welfare Department. Leader's request for 221 millions was reduced to 194 millions. The GOP said the department spent 178 millions in the current biennium.

Percentage-wise, the heaviest reduction saw the governor's request for $12,800,000 for the Commerce Department cut by 67 per cent to $4,311,500.

Some of the other cuts by departments include: Property and Supplies, $8,300,000; Public Instruction 10 millions; health, $9,200,000; Forests and Waters, $6,113,000; Treasury, 2½ millions; Mines, $3,170,000; Public Assistance, 3¼ millions; Revenue, 4½ millions; and Agriculture, 2 millions.

Companion Measures
Companion measures were introduced appropriating 24 millions for 185 state-aided hospitals and $752,875 for 62 state-aided homes for children and the aged.

The amounts are exactly what Leader recommended in his budget.

et. The same, said a committee spokesman, generally applies to state-aided universities, including Temple, Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh and Penn State.

10 FILE PLEAS IN STATE PROBE OF PIKE GROUP

HARRISBURG (P)—Five persons indicted in operation of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission have appealed to Dauphin County Court to insist that more specific charges be filed against them.

Three others asked that charges be dismissed and two more that they be allowed to examine documents of the special grand jury which recommended the indictments.

The court took the pleas under advisement yesterday. It said it would rule before the end of the week.

Asking dismissal of charges were:

Theodore Paul, Philadelphia, charged with conspiracy, Thomas J. Evans, Coal Dale, former Republican commission chairman, charged with misconduct in office; and James F. Torrance, Export, GOP commissioner suspended by Leader and charged with misconduct in office.

Charged With Conspiracy
Torrance and Evans also are charged with conspiracy but their petitions did not ask that that charge be dropped.

Petitions that more specific charges be filed by the office of the district attorney were filed by:

Charles W. Stickler, Johnston R. 1, president of Manu - Mine Research and Development Corp., Reading; Clayton A. Landside, Shillington, the firm's vice president and general manager; G. J. Hudert and E. J. Donnelly, former engineering consultants to the commission from Baltimore, and Landside and McNeill asked for the right to inspect records of testimony they gave before the grand jury.

ARMY SEIZES HAITI CONTROL

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (P)—The army took over control of Haiti today "to save the nation from anarchy."

Brig. Gen. Leon Cantave, the army chief of staff in this turbulent Negro republic, signed a proclamation declaring the army would enforce military rule until a provisional president is elected who can guarantee "free and honest elections."

Cantave defied an order from the seven-man Executive Council yesterday ousting him as chief of staff.

Not a shot was fired as the army rebelled against the Council, which had been ruling by dictatorial decree pending presidential elections set for June 16.

Defiance of the Council spread outside Port au Prince. A "Committee for Public Safety" at Cap-Haitien declared it would rule all northern Haiti until a new president is elected. The committee was believed linked with a similar rebel group at St. Marc.

Port au Prince appeared quiet but tension was high.

The newspaper Le Jour predicted the urgent conference of army leaders would result in an announcement that the military was taking over the government.

The army has 2,500 men on active duty and reserves of 3,000 in this country of 4 million persons.

PRISON PIPELINE

IONIA, Mich. (P)—Inmates of the Ionia State Reformatory gave 1,024 pints of blood to the Red Cross in two days to bolster their claim of being "world champion blood donors." The prison has 1,500 inmates.

A storm off the Atlantic Coast brought mostly light rain from Virginia northward to Maine. Drizzle in parts of the southern Great Lakes region and light showers in Florida rounded out the precipitation belt.

Temperatures ranged from near or below freezing in sections of the northern and central Rockies to around 80 in southern Texas and extreme southern Florida.

No date has been set for the wedding.

ST LOUIS (P)—South America will be lost to the Roman Catholic Church unless more priests are made available for mission work there, says Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter of St. Louis.

Archbishop Ritter, who made a nine-day flying trip to South America, said "it has now been demonstrated that it is practical for U. S. diocesan priests to serve as missionaries in South America" and he hopes more dioceses will send priests there.

Foreign Demand For Iron And Steel Scrap So Great It Can Hurt Supplies Here

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks told the House Small Business Committee yesterday that foreign consumers want more American iron and steel scrap than can be sold them without hurting supplies here.

Weeks and Asst. Secretary Harold C. McClellan said Japan, for instance, bought 2,100,000 tons of U.S. scrap last year—300,000 tons more than a nonmandatory limit set in discussions with the Japanese and other major foreign purchasers.

Weeks indicated he personally feels mandatory export quotas should be imposed, but said it now seems the problem can be worked out through voluntary means.

Sought Exclusive Grip

An official of a small scrap exporting company testified he heard that a large American firm, Luria Bros. & Co. of New York, tried last year to get an exclusive hold on all Japanese imports of U.S. iron and steel scrap. Stanley Diefenthal, executive vice president of the Southern Scrap Material Co., New Orleans, told the committee small scrap brokers generally have been "increasingly hampered by what we feel is monopolistic practices" by large companies during the past decade.

He said the bigger outfits used such tactics as buying out competitors, "pirating" competitors' employees, dominating trade associations, threatening reprisals to businesses not cooperating with them, and spreading rumors harmful to competitors.

Protests Blocked Deal

Diefenthal specifically named Luria Bros. when questioned about his statement that a large American firm sought an exclusive contract for all Japanese imports of U.S. iron and steel scrap.

He said he picked up this word when he was visiting Japan last year. If it hadn't been for protests from other U.S. suppliers, he said, he believes Luria would have got the exclusive contract.

He said Luria already supplies some 40 per cent of the Japanese imports and almost 100 per cent of the iron and steel scrap that the West Europeans buy.

Diefenthal said Luria had circulated reports among Japanese steel men that it had influence with the U.S. Commerce Department and that if they dealt with Luria, they could get the scrap they wanted. He added that he did not believe there was any justification for the story about the Commerce Department.

PA. PRIMARIES FAIL TO STIR MUCH INTEREST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pennsylvanians voted today in a primary election whose chief interest focuses on local issues and candidates.

Both major parties were openly resigned to a light and apathetic turnout. It seemed obvious that no impressive proportion of Pennsylvania's 5,247,925 registered electorate would trouble to vote when not a single statewide office is at stake, nor a single galvanizing question up for decision.

Colorless as primaries go, this one has been uncommonly lacking in intensity at any level. And it has been devoid of the broad brushstrokes of extravaganzas—the get-out-the-vote hustle, the advertising campaigns, the blare on music and message by turns.

Standard Phophies

For those who are voting, at the state's 8,883 polling places, in the hours from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m., Daylight Saving Time, generally fair weather with moderate temperatures has been forecast.

Despite the pedestrian nature of the primary, spokesmen for both Democrats and Republicans said that local contests were bound to produce significant developments. These are pretty much standard political prophecies.

Perhaps the closest contest of all-state interest, and that in a

Pennsy Net Income Off For 4 Months

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 30 per cent decrease in net income for the first four months of the year compared with the like period of 1956 was reported yesterday by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The PRR gave its net income for the period as $8,406,232 compared with $12,015,228 for the first four months of last year. April earnings fell off even more—41.6 per cent—over the same month in 1956. Last month's figure was $3,033,146, equal to 16 cents a share; in April 1956 earnings were $5,195,157, equal to 23 cents a share.

Fine, who was thought to have withdrawn from public life, campaigned for a judgeship of Common Pleas Court in his native Luzerne County. He is backing the county GOP organization, over which he held sway for 30 years.

Mayorality Contests

A certain interest attaches also to David L. Lawrence's try for a fourth term as mayor of Pittsburgh. Even here the edge is taken off things, competitively, since Lawrence seems certain to win the Democratic nomination over Theodore L. Moritz, a former congressman.

Another mayor is seeking a fourth term—Democrat James T. Hanlon of Scranton. He is opposed by Edward Lavelle, a former state capitol policeman in Harrisburg.

RECALL SAWYER IN "LEAK" PROBE AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators probing a government information "leak" today recalled Raymond Sawyer, a Civil Aeronautics Board lawyer who complained he was "trapped" in a previous appearance.

The investigations subcommittee is trying to determine who in CAB leaked the word after the board had voted secretly last Aug. 2 to let Northeast Airlines fly the lucrative New York-Miami route.

CAB Chairman James R. Durfee also was asked to testify about the possible need to tighten laws to prohibit leaks.

Has Entered Denial

Sawyer has denied passing out the information which set off a burst of trading on the stock market Aug. 3 that sent Northeast prices soaring. The CAB decision was not announced until Aug. 10.

When he appeared before the subcommittee yesterday, Sawyer accused the group of having "trapped" him at the May 2 hearing. He said that at that time, the subcommittee barred him from the room during the testimony of Laurence Henderson, Washington representative for Fairchild Engine and Aircraft Co.

Sawyer said the subcommittee then allowed him to waive counsel without telling him of "evidence against me" from Henderson.

"Trapped Unfairly"

"At that moment I was being trapped, and I think unfairly," Sawyer said.

Subcommittee Chairman Jackson (D-Wash.) replied that the record of the hearings will show whether there was any unfair trapping.

Henderson testified yesterday he still does not believe Sawyer tipped him about the board decision. But he said if his memory is faulty, he still can "only conclude" that a telephone call from Sawyer would have been the only possible source of his information. He told a Boston investment firm Aug. 3 he understood that Northeast had won the award.

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Otto F. Behrend, 84, one of three brothers who in 1898 founded the Hamermill Paper Co. in Erie, treasurer of the firm until 1953 and a member of the board of directors until 1955, died Monday. He was born in Coeslin, Germany.

Mercier was accused of buying secret recordings of Egyptian embassy telephone conversations from Swiss Police Inspector Max Ulrich, now under arrest.

SAY HOLLISTER READY TO QUIT ON FOREIGN AID

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Aid Administrator John B. Hollister today was reported getting ready to bow out of his job.

Hollister's expected early exit, along with the forthcoming departure from the Cabinet of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, will reduce to the vanishing point the influence of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's followers in the Eisenhower administration's high councils.

Hollister, once Taft's law partner, was said to be preparing to step out after he formally presents the administration's $3,880,000,000 foreign aid program to Congress.

To Meet Committee

Hollister himself was not available for comment.

He goes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Thursday, following up tomorrow's appearance before that group by Secretary of State Dulles.

There has been no clear indication of President Eisenhower's choice of a successor to Hollister as head of the International Cooperation Administration.

Some Democrats in Congress in sympathy with the foreign aid program have suggested to Dulles and others they would like to see Eric Johnston be given an important role in any new aid setup.

Opposed To Idea

Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, serves as chairman of the International Development Advisory Board. His group recommended the kind of assistance to underdeveloped countries envisioned in Dulles' proposal for an international development fund.

Hollister is regarded by many in Congress as reflecting opposition to the whole idea of foreign

Two Couples Swap Mates After Divorces And Flee Reporters

RENO (AP)—Two couples, who changed their affections during two years of suburban activities such as Parent-Teacher Assn. meetings, swapped mates yesterday and fled from the public.

Both couples, residents of a San Francisco suburb, were divorced by the same Reno judge on the customary Nevada grounds: "extreme cruelty."

After Judge Grant Bowen had pronounced their marriages finished, Mrs. Betty Jean Schwartz, 33, and Martin Brooks, 35, slipped off to Carson City and were married by Justice of the Peace Dan Murphy.

Mrs. Betty Brooks, 35, and Dr. Frank E. Schwartz, 38, led cameramen on a chase through Reno and then doubled back and were married here by Justice of the Peace William Beemer.

Then they disappeared and their mutual lawyer, Eli Liverato, refused even to hint at where they might be.

The couples from Milbrae, 16 miles south of San Francisco, met at a dance in 1953, and continued meeting at Cub Scout Sessions, PTA meetings and at Milbrae Community Methodist Church.

Dr. Schwartz, an eye specialist, and his wife had two children. Brooks, a garden store owner, and his wife had four.

Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. Brooks came to Reno six weeks ago, stayed at the same motel hired the same lawyer and continued their friendship while putting in the time necessary to gain legal status as Nevada residents.

Dr. Schwartz said the children "already" are "like brothers and sisters." He said the swap would mean that "they're just getting an extra father and mother."

AP Reporter, Student Of Civil War, Says Ike And Monty Were Right In Criticism Of Meade And Lee During Battle Of Gettysburg

The following piece was written by Robert D. Price, of the Associated Press staff in New York. He was formerly attached to the Harrisburg bureau. He is well known in Gettysburg, a frequent visitor to Gettysburg, and an authority on the Civil War.

NEW YORK (AP)

By all the fuss that was stirred up, you'd think President Eisenhower and Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery had said something new and startling last week end when they criticized the tactics at the Civil War Battle of Gettysburg. They didn't.

It never has been a secret that Gettysburg was far from a model of military maneuver. Indeed, the multiplicity of mistakes made there, the might-have-beens, make one reason why the battle has become such a fascinating study.

Unsettled Arguments

The arguments about Gettysburg were under way before the armies left the field. They have been going on ever since. Some of them never will be settled to everyone's satisfaction, but over the years a pattern and a weight of evidence has developed that is fairly conclusive. The point here is that Mr. Eisenhower and Montgomery said little that had not been said before.

First, a brief summary of the battle. It was 1863, the third year of the war. The Confederacy, flushed with the victory of Chancellorsville, decided to invade the North. Robert E. Lee marched his divisions up the mountain-shielded avenue of Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, then spread out over Pennsylvania, striking as far as Harrisburg and York.

The Union Army, under "Fighting Joe" Hooker, pursued until late June, when George Gordon arms, groping for each other like wrestlers in a fog, collided accidentally at Gettysburg.

50,000 Casualties

For three days they fought, in the hills around the town, a battle that cost 50,000 casualties. The Confederates were defeated but retreated with their army intact. Although the Confederacy fought on until April, 1865, it never again mustered strength for an offensive thrust.

Now consider the Eisenhower-Montgomery criticism, one by one:

1. The famed charge of 15,000 Confederates led by Gen. George Pickett against the Union center debate. (He was off on a characteristic raiding expedition and did not arrive at Gettysburg until July 2.) Lee himself lamented that he fought "in the absence of correct intelligence." Stuart's blundering rapher hazarded in 1929 if Stuart had been with Lee, "it is unlikely that the battle would have been fought at Gettysburg. . . . Meade's scattered corps might well have been crushed in detail before he could concentrate his army."

Culp's Hill Argument
Far from raising new points of criticism, Mr. Eisenhower and Montgomery did not by any means touch on all that had been raised earlier. For example, there is the matter of Culp's Hill. Did the indecision of Gen. Richard Ewell on the evening of July 1 seal the defeat of Lee? You can get yourself a fine argument on that.

The situation was that Ewell's troops had rocketed victoriously through Gettysburg until they hit rocky Culp's Hill. Lee, newly arrived on the field, told Ewell to attack "if practicable." Ewell was new to corps command. He pondered, wavered, decided the hour was too late. If he had sent his troops forward, the argument goes, he would have swept the thin line of blue defenders from the eminence and installed the Confederacy on a height that would have made untenable the Cemetery Ridge line from which the Federals fought for the next two days.

Was Delay Unduly

And how about Longstreet's attack of July 2? Did he delay unduly? If he had attacked in early morning, as Lee had planned, would he have rolled up the Union left flank? For many years, Longstreet was assailed for dilly-dallying while opportunity faded. Recent researches, however, have changed the picture to the point of establishing that Meade had sufficient force in hand to defend Cemetery Ridge at the earliest hour at which Longstreet could have mounted an attack. There remains the question whether Longstreet's heart was in attack he didn't want to make, and the whole story of July 2 is one of confusion and misunderstanding.

Perhaps Mr. Eisenhower and Montgomery did raise a fresh point in their suggestion that Lee and Meade should have been "sacked." It is easily disposed of. It is safe to say that the thought of ousting the revered Lee never entered a Southern mind. As for Meade — well, he had won the battle and the Union was in no position right then to consider displacing a winning general. The breed was too scarce.

There have been criticisms of Meade's conduct of the battle too, chiefly centering on a meeting with his corps commanders on the night of July 2 at which he put up to them the question whether the army should stand and fight, or retreat. The decision was to stand and fight on the defensive, but the record is not clear whether it was in accord with Meade's own view. In any case, the mere calling of the council and the wording of the propositions placed before it betrayed indecision not conducive to strong leadership. There is an explanation on Meade's behalf: he had been in command of the army only four days, and he was fighting the battle by ear.

More fire against Meade arose from his conduct of the army during Lee's tortuous retreat from Gettysburg to the Potomac River. Meade went forward cautiously. Every time Lee bristled, Meade drew off. His policy seemed to be to avoid battle, if possible, as he tried to herd "the enemy from our soil," a phrase from a proclamation to the army that aroused the ire of President Abraham Lincoln. Later, at the White House, Lincoln told Meade that the maneuvers during his period reminded him of "an old woman trying to shoo her geese across the creek."

Perhaps Mr. Eisenhower and Montgomery did raise a fresh point in their suggestion that Lee and Meade should have been "sacked." It is easily disposed of. It is safe to say that the thought of ousting the revered Lee never entered a Southern mind. As for Meade — well, he had won the battle and the Union was in no position right then to consider displacing a winning general. The breed was too scarce.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — This ABC on foreign aid—on how it has been given and how much—is background for the nationwide broadcast of President Eisenhower tonight on his foreign aid program.

Since the end of World War II this country has provided almost 58 billion dollars in foreign aid of all kinds to 60 nations, an average of almost five billions a year over the last 12 years.

Last year Congress voted — for this year — $3,800,000,000. Tonight Eisenhower is expected to ask for the next year about $3,800,000,000.

His talk will be both an explanation of why the money is needed and a plea for public support against the present congressional money-cutting rampage. Congress will continue foreign aid. What worries Eisenhower is: How much?

4 Billion Repaid

Of the 58 billion spent by this country so far on foreign aid, by far the greatest part has been a give-away or, as it is called, a grant. A grant means a gift. Eleven billion was given in loans — of which only about four billion has been repaid — while 47 billion has been in grants.

The 58 billion in aid given since the war is over 15 billion more than the total national debt at the start of that war in 1939. The national debt then was $42,600,000,000.

Mainly because of war expenses

Elder Post Group Decides On Float

The float committee of the Francis X. Elder American Legion post, of Emmitsburg, met Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the post home and discussed the type of float the post will enter in the bicentennial celebration parade in Emmitsburg next month. It was not revealed what kind of float will be entered.

The committee comprises Curtis D. Topper, chairman; Louis Rosensteel, Andrew T. Shorb, Charles B. Horner, T. Eugene Rodgers, William D. Rodgers and Commander Edgar G. Wastler.

This evening the Legion drill team will meet at the post home at 8 o'clock to discuss further activities. T. Eugene Rodgers is the drill master and Louis Rosensteel is the secretary.

The British R.A.F. is abandoning waterborne fighting aircraft.

but with foreign aid spending responsible for some of it, the national debt since then has climbed to around 273½ billion.

In the 1956 fiscal year military assistance — supplies and services — was three billion, worldwide. Of the total $1,800,000,000 went to Western Europe; over 700 million for Asia and the Pacific area; and over 400 million for the Near East and Africa.

Of the $3,800,000,000 which Congress voted for the present 1957 fiscal year — which ends June 30 — about $2,100,000,000 was for military assistance and $1,000,000,000 for nonmilitary type aid.

The powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee believes foreign aid should be continued. And no doubt it will be. But now Congress is demanding a clearer bill of particulars of precisely how much aid is needed, and why.

BISHOP LEECH IS PAPAL AIDE

The Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg Diocese, has been named assistant at the Pontifical Throne by Pope Pius XII. The honor is one held only by archbishops and seven bishops in the United States.

Announcement of the appointment was made by the Most Rev. Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, who recently celebrated a Solemn Pontifical Mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral to commemorate consecration of the cathedral.

Bishop Leech now is a member of the College of Cardinals (ex-officio).

Members of the college rank after cardinals and in ceremonies are assigned to a special place around the Papal Throne.

When the Pope lived at the Lateran Palace they composed his court and each assistant still receives the title "Count of the apostolic palace and Court of the Lateran."

Do FALSE TEETH Rock, Slide or Slip?

FASTTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTTEETH at any drug counter.
